HI FIRENDS

I am a freelance artist and graphic designer. I have done Certificate course in Fine Art from HKUSPACE, Hong Kong. I am also a Diploma Holder in Graphic Designing and Fashion Designing that helps me to enhance the creativity in my art works.

For the last few years, I have realized that kids need a systematic way of learning art. It not only improves their art skill, but also help them in other subjects like english, maths, science, geography, etc. as they learn to observe things from different point of view and increase their analytical power. This would also help them to appreciate art. I believe anyone can learn drawing and only thing you need is to PRACTICE WITH PATIENCE.

A May 2005 Harris Poll on the attitudes of Americans toward arts education, commissioned by Americans for the Arts, revealed 93% agree that the arts are vital in providing a well-rounded education for children and 86% agreed that art education encourages and assist in the improvement of a child's attitudes toward school.
